Link Group confirms new super administration agreement

Sydney, 23 September 2014 – Leading superannuation administration specialist, Link Group, today confirmed it has entered into a Heads of Agreement with five superannuation funds to provide member administration services to those funds, and the ancillary purchase of Superpartners subject to final due diligence.

The five funds – AustralianSuper, HOSTPLUS, HESTA, Cbus and MTAA Super – are currently administered by Superpartners, an administration firm which they jointly own.

Under the Heads of Agreement, each fund will negotiate a separate arrangement with Australian Administration Services (AAS) to provide a range of ongoing superannuation administration services.

AAS is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Link Group, and sits within Link's Superannuation Administration business.

Each fund will transition onto Link Group's market-leading aaspire system, which currently supports over 50 corporate, government and industry super funds.

John McMurtrie, Managing Director of Link Group said: "This is an exciting development for Link Group and will allow us to provide even greater efficiencies and benefits of scale to all of our superannuation clients. The proposed deal will allow the incoming super funds to focus on serving their members, while Link provides administration services that are agile and scalable to meet the evolving needs of the funds and their members."

Ends
